

SECTION VII: EDUCATION & CERTIFICATION - JUDGES

I. Mission Statement

The mission of USA Gymnastics Trampoline & Tumbling judges is to promote and support the sports of Trampoline, Tumbling, and Double Mini through ongoing professional education and development. Judges will use their knowledge to offer unbiased and professional evaluation of their respective disciplines.

II. Code of Ethics

As a USAG Trampoline & Tumbling judge you agree to abide by the Judges Code of Ethics. When you accept your rating, you agree to the following:

1. A good judge is an individual who is educated to evaluate a performance based on technical execution and to pass fair and unbiased judgment on that performance without any outside considerations.
2. Judges are expected to be objective, professional, and free from prejudice. The following should not affect your evaluation.
 - a. Reputation: The past performance of an athlete should have no bearing on your score. Judge only the elements you see.
 - b. Relationships: Personal relationships with an athlete, coach, parent, etc., whether positive or negative, should not be reflected in your score.
 - c. Warm-up: The warm-up should have no bearing on the score for the actual performance.
 - d. Difficulty: Judge each element fairly, using the same criteria, regardless of its difficulty.
 - e. Peer pressure: Use your own judgment. It is crucial to maintain a consistent judging method. If you are influenced by a remark and alter your scores, you are not being fair to those who have gone before or to those who have yet to compete.
 - f. Appearance: The athlete's appearance should not affect your score. Judge only the execution of the elements performed.
3. Element Identification – a competent judge should be as knowledgeable as possible in recognizing elements at the level(s) he/she will judge.
4. Behavior – a professional manner and appearance will win the respect of those observing a judge at work.
 - a. Dress code: business attire, navy/black jacket, white blouse or shirt, navy/black skirt or slacks, tie for men and dark dress shoes. No denim, leggings, or leather.

- b. In the interest of fairness, judges must be allowed to perform their duties without distraction. Therefore, while judging, you are off-limits to all unauthorized persons (including your children).
 - c. If, for any reason, you feel you are unable to deliver an objective score, it is your responsibility to disqualify yourself. The Chair of the Panel may either average the remaining judges' scores or replace you for the entire group.
 - d. Do not discuss the scores of other judges with coaches or spectators. Undermining other judges lessens the credibility of all judges.
5. Judging efficiency: professionalism is important. The growth and excellence of the sport depends on the professional manner of each judge.
- a. Arrive on time and be fully prepared. If a meeting is scheduled, failure to attend can result in your replacement. Bring your own Code of Points, Rule & Policies, paper, pencils, etc.
 - b. Return from breaks on time. An athlete who is warmed up and ready should never have to wait to compete.
 - c. Have the current Development Code of Points, Rules & Policies, Elite Code of Points and FIG Code of Points and check the USAG Trampoline & Tumbling errata page on the website often for changes. Once certified, it is your responsibility to remain current. The T210 Annual Update is required each year prior to your first competition. It is required in order to retain your rating (see IV. Judging Requirements below). This webinar will discuss all rule changes and any new required interpretations. Be prepared to update your Code of Points at this time.
 - d. All judges are required to retest at the beginning of each new quad.
 - e. Be prepared to justify your scores. An execution score may not be protested except for a possible numerical error. However, you should be able to explain the deductions you made to arrive at your score.
6. Experience
- a. Time in the gym: watching athletes develop elements will help you improve as a judge.
 - b. Element Identification: familiarity with different techniques used to perform elements will help you concentrate on the actual technical execution of those elements. You will also become better acquainted with the natural progressions of elements.
