Once again I venture into the black hole of NCAA Men’s Gymnastics to predict the eventual National Champion.

It is my opinion, however, that this year’s race will not be as breathtaking as it usually is. The reason I say this is because I believe Oklahoma will win the 2011 race by a more comfortable margin than usual.

Note: In the following the gymnasts named are for the most part ones that placed in the top 6 or top 8 at their conference meet or at the Nationals in 2010.

1. OKLAHOMA: With talent the likes of Steven Legendre, Jake Dalton, Alex Naddour, Ian Jackson and possibly Chris Stehl, this relatively young team will be ready to show its maturity.

Although the team was a bit down last season (only finished 3rd!) 2011 will be a very different story. OU will be led by Legendre whose credentials include: 1-AA, 2- AA, 1-FX-, 1-V-NCAA; 2-AA, 1-FX, 3-V-MPSF (strong Nissen-Emery candidate); Dalton-8-AA, 4-FX, 2-V-NCAA; 5-AA, 5-FX, 6-PB, 3-HB-MPSF and A. Naddour-1-PH, 7-AA-NCAA; 3-AA, 2-PH, 6-V-MPSF

The Sooners also return Bobby Shortle-3-FX, 4-V-MPSF; Troy Nitzky-5-PH; Jeremy Adams-5-PH, 8-V-MPSF; Patrick Piscitelli-5-SR-MPSF; Jackson-1-V, 8-HB-MPSF.

Also on the positive side OU only loses Corey English-3-PB-NCAA, 4-PB-NCAA from their 3rd place team.

Freshmen: Presten Ellsworth (TX).

Summary: The Sooners have it all. They have personal that can consistently generate huge scores and they have great depth.

2. STANFORD: The Cardinal lose only Eric Hergenrader (6-V-MPSF) and Greg Ter-Zakhariants.

On the other hand they return a large number of outstanding talents including: Eddie Penev-2-FX-MPSF, 1-V-NCAA; Josh Dixon-4-FX-MPSF, 3-V-NCAA; Alex Buscaglia-5-FX-MPSF, 5-FX, 5-HB-NCAA (potential Nissen-Emery nominee); Tim Gentry-1-SR, 2-V-MPSF, 3-SR, 4-V-NCAA (potential Nissen-Emery nominee); James Fasce-2-SR-MPSF; Ryan Leiberman-5-SR, 3-PB-MPSF, 1-PB-NCAA; Lucas Hughes-7-PB-MPSF; John Martin-3-HB-MPSF, 6-PH-NCAA; Abhinav Ramani-7-HB-NCAA and Nicholas Noone (3-SR-MPSF; 5-SR, 4-PB-NCAA).

The Cardinal also has added Olympic Medalist Brett McClure as their new Assistant 2011 NISSEN-EMERY CO-FAVORITES

Coach Weiner suggested that his team in 2010 would be his best ever, but, unfortunately, this did not come to be. In spite of this Cal has their entire team back and could be a big surprise in 2011.

Returning will be: Kyle Bunthuwong (definite Nissen-Emery candidate)-6-AA, 5-FX, 4-SR, 1-HP, 1-HB-MPSF (did not have a good meet at Nationals), Glen Ishino-1-AA, 5-FX, 1-PH, 5-V, 2-PB, 2-HB-MPSF, 5-AA, 2-PH (also did not have good Nationals) and Dennis Mannhart-4-AA, 4-PH, 8-SR-MPSF.

Losses for Cal are: None.

Freshmen: Matt Del Junco (CA), Josh Van Bourg (CA).

Summary: Cal has three excellent AA men in Bunthuwong, Ishino and Mannhart but they do not have 4 big scores in each event. State politics could really dampen the spirits of this team.

5. UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN: will suffer greatly from graduation losses, especially Mel Antion Santander -2-AA, 6-PH, 3-PB, 5-HB-MPSF, 3-AA, 2-PB, 3-HB-NCAA. They also lose Phillip Goldberg-3-SR-MPSF, 7-SR-NCAA; Ryan McCarthy-7-HB-Big Ten, 1-HB-NCAA; Kent Caldwell-6-V-Big Ten, 7-FX, 6-V-NCAA; David Chan-7-PH-Big Ten.

Michigan does return two outstanding All Around men in Chris Cameron and Thomas Kelley, but depth may be a problem.

Cameron-1-AA, 1-FX, 2-SR, 8-PB, 1-AA, 4-SR, 7-PB-NCAA (great talent and strong Nissen-Emery candidate), Kelley-6-AA, 6-SR, 2-HB-Big Ten, 5-PB-NCAA; Ian Maukske-4-HB-Big Ten, 2-HB-NCAA.

Freshmen: Sam Mikulak (CA), Jordan Garrenstrom (CA), Alex Bubnov (NJ), Michael Begin (MI), A.J. Schottstreadt (CA), Corbett Schmitz (CA), Matt Freeman (MI), Dylan James (CA), Kevin Fraser (TX), Kyle Thomas (MI), Mike Myler (UT).

Summary: Very difficult to repeat as National Champions and with graduation losses this will probably be true for Michigan. The addition of Mikulak plus other freshmen could alter the entire picture here.

6. OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY: has some serious talent returning, but will also have difficulty coming up with a 3rd and 4th big score in each event.

The Buckeyes will host the 2011 NCAA Nationals, giving them added incentive to qualify for the team finals.

Returning: Brandon Wynn-3-AA, 1-SR, 3-V, 7-FX-Big Ten, 1-SR-NCAA (strong Nissen-Emery candidate), Philip Onorato-2-V-Big Ten, 4-V-NCAA (great potential), Steven Spencer and Ty Echard (will form a great 1-2 punch on PH)-Spencer-3-PH-NCAA; Echard-2-PH-Big Ten.

Team losses include: Tai Lee (never quite realized his potential due to injuries); Justin Myers-6-PB-Big Ten; Shachar Tal.

Freshmen: Matt Barr (OH), Kris Done (NZ), Brandon Jones (MD), Nick Tagliaferro, (NJ) Jeff Treleaven (IL), Neil Zybut (IL)

Summary: OSU has some great talent in Wynn, Onorato, Spencer and Echard, but not enough depth.

7. PENN STATE UNIVERSITY: came up with a gym full of freshmen last season plus several more this year and they just might be ready to put this team back in the spotlight.
Returning: Russell Dabritz—a top PB man and 8-FX-NCAA.

Cole Storer (their only All American in 2010)—Big Ten; Thomas O'Brien—3-PH—Big Ten; 3-FX—Big Ten; Adam Reichow—6-FX, 4-V—5-PB—Big Ten; Andre Berry, Colin McGuire—tough one for them.

It would appear that 2011 will be a rough year in 2010, winning the USAG title in sight.

9. UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA:
The Huskers will wake up in a different world when the 2011-2012 season begins. Their switch from the MPSF to the Big Ten will, without a doubt, make the Big Ten a stronger men’s gymnastics conference, but will very definitely have an adverse affect on the MPSF. For now, however, they remain in the MPSF.

The Huskers also now have a new assistant coach, recent letter-winner John Robinson. At least one source indicated that this program was on the endangered list and this writer passed this information on. I was in error to do so and I apologize for passing on incorrect information.

The Huskers are another team hit hard by graduation. Eight losses including: Kyle Shanahan-7-AA, 7-PH, 4-PB, 6-HB-MPSF; Daniel Brule-8-PB-8-HB-MPSF; Josh Rusler-8-HB-MPSF; John Robinson—who did not compete in the post season due to injury.

Nebraska only had one gymnast place in the top 8 at the 2010 Nationals, Anthony Ingrelli-6-SR-NCAA. Also returning: Bear Danley-7-Assistant coach, recent letter-winner John Robinson. The Huskers also now have a new assistant coach, recent letter-winner John Robinson.

Nebraska only had one gymnast place in the top 8 at the 2010 Nationals, Anthony Ingrelli-6-SR-NCAA. Also returning: Bear Danley-7-PH-NCAA; Chase Nobles-4-PH-USAG; Dan McLaughlin-injured in 2010 and the return of Blake Collins-5-AA, 3-SR-ECAC; Scott Bloomfield-2-FX, 1-V, 8-PB-ECAC; Jeff Zack-5-V-ECAC; Taylor Brana-1-PB-ECAC; Allen Malone-8-HB-ECAC; Jesse Kitzen-Abelson-3-PH-ECAC and Chris Mooney-7-AA-ECAC, they will field a lot of experience.

On the other hand the team did lose: Christopher Bizub-6-V-ECAC; Tyler Croteau. Freshmen: John Leonard (PA), Dmytri Tserkovnyuk (NY), Brenden Williams (CA).

Summary: Will be stronger in 2011 with the ECAC title in sight.

12. AIR FORCE ACADEMY: had a record breaking year in 2010, winning the USAG National Championship, and can be expected to top even that in 2011.

Returning for AF will be: Nash Mills (possible Nissen-Emery nominee)-1-AA, 6-SR, 4-V, 1-PB-USAG; James Okomoto-2-PH-USAG; Chase Nobles-4-PH-USAG; Dan
13. ILLINOIS-CHICAGO: will almost certainly be a little bit down in 2011, primarily due to the large graduation class.

Coach C.J. Johnson has also announced his retirement after 36 years of coaching. Not all is lost, however, as C.J. has indicated he will be at least a part-time assistant. Charley Nelson has been named the new Head Coach (a position he has already pretty much filled the past few years due to C.J.’s back problems).

Losses limited to: Garrett Canter-5-HB-USAG and Bennan Wolford. However, their biggest loss may well be the loss of Assistant Coach Brett McClure who will be the new Assistant Coach at Stanford.

Freshmen: Tyler Huebner (TX), Colton Wulf (CO), Mac Ritchie (NC), Ben Zaiser (PA), Kyle Baker (KY) and Patrick Duffy (NM).

Summary: Quite possibly will be the best (NM).

14. COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY: in the last 17 years W/M has placed first 13 times in the USAG Collegiate Nationals. What more can one say?

However, 2011 could be a bit tougher and the main reason for this statement is the loss of Derek Gygax-2-AA, 2-PH, 7-SR-ECAC; 1-AA, 2-FX, 1-PH, 3-SR, 3-PB, 4-HB-USAG. Gygax has, for the past four years, been one of the most consistent collegiate gymnasts in the history of the sport.

Returning: Andy Hunter-2-SR, 6-FX, 3-FX-USAG; Steve Deuschn-5-PH-USAG; Vince Smurro-2-HB-USAG, 3-PB-ECAC; Futa Ikeda-8-PH-ECAC, Jonathon Prohov-8-SR-ECAC.

Other losses: Josh Fried-4-FX-ECAC.

Freshmen: Blake Erickson (WA), Landon Funiciello (NY), Sam Patterson (IL) and Daniel Potemski (TX).

Summary: Indications are that in spite of the loss of Gygax the team is young yet has some potential, and frosh will help immediately.

15. SPRINGFIELD COLLEGE: continues to be a bulwark in the sport of college men’s gymnastics. The epitome of gymnastics tradition, this small school struggles annually to compete in a battle that is entirely one-sided. With no financial aid and an enrollment of only around 5000 this David continues its battles with Goliath, for the pure enjoyment of the sport.

The past two years have seen this school field some of the best teams in its history and 2011 should be as good if not even better. Returning will be Ty Evans-a remarkable young gymnast who could compete for any team in the country. His record is amazing: 3-AA, 5-FX, 3-V, 2-PB 3-HB-USAG; 3-AA, 5-FX, 2-PB, 3-HB-ECAC and he is only a jun-

Summary: Even though Springfield suffers four graduation losses only one placed high in the post-season and that was Matt Tocchio-5-PH-ECAC.

Freshmen: Garret DeSantis (NJ), Killian O’Brien (IN), Kyle Reasoner (MA), Ryan Ponce (CT).

Summary: Even though winning against bigger schools is quite out of the question this school, under the coaching of Steve Posner, will field a very competitive team.

16. U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY: had probably the most disappointing 2010 season of any school.

Predicted by the coaches to finish 15th and by this reporter to finish 12th, they finished 16th. Beginning with a very small squad and hampered by injuries the Middies never were in the race.

The 2011 season will be hard to predict. Much will depend upon newcomers that are badly needed to add depth in each event.

Returning for Navy will be: Andrew Faulk-6-AA, 2-V, 5-PB, 3-HB-ECAC; 3-HB, 4-AA, 6-FX, 5-PB, USAG. Dylan Parrott-1-FX, 2-HB-ECAC; 1-FX, 6-V, 4-PB, 1-HB-USAG (two outstanding gymnasts), Austin Zalik-6-AA-USAG and Ian Lassonde-3-PH-ECAC.

Navy graduated no one, but started last season and that was Matt Tocchio-5-PH-ECAC. with only 8 team members.

Freshmen: Chris Junghans (MD), John Parks (FL), Nate Gessner (MN).

Summary: Very hard to predict. Even with Faulk and Parrott they still need a # 3 and 4 in each event.

17. U.S. MILITARY ACADEMY: Army has suffered through a couple of very rough seasons after having discipline problems interrupt their season a few years ago. Good recent recruiting should begin to show this season.

Returning for Army will be: Andrew Faulk-6-AA, 2-V, 5-PB, 3-HB-ECAC; 3-HB, 4-AA, 6-FX, 5-PB, USAG. Dylan Parrott-1-FX, 2-HB-ECAC; 1-FX, 6-V, 4-PB, 1-HB-USAG (two outstanding gymnasts), Austin Zalik-6-AA-USAG and Ian Lassonde-3-PH-ECAC.

results of my predictions for 2010:
Neal Thompson, UIC
Andrew Faulk-Navy
Dylan Parrott-Navy
Picked Navy for 12th and they were 16th.
Picked UIC for 11th and they were 11th.
Picked Nebraska for 10th and they were 9th.

Patrick McLaughlin-Temple
Picked Ohio State for 8th and they were 6th.

Mike Jiang-Iowa
Steven Legendre-Oklahoma
Picked Minnesota for 6th and they were 7th.

Dan Ribeiro-Illinois
Picked Oklahoma for 5th and they were 3rd.

Potential Nissen-Emery Candidates:
Paul Ruggeri-Illinois
half-dozen very worthy candidates.
Alex Buscaglia-Stanford
Picked Illinois for 3rd and they were 4th.
looking brighter for Army.

Summary: With 7 sophomores the future is going to Legendre. This should prove to be Paul Ruggeri of Illinois, with a slight edge Michigan, Steven Legendre of Oklahoma and Thomas Kelley-Michigan roster.

With 8 new faces, this team is young with a lot of potential and room to grow. The team numbers 23 members strong, which encourages lots of internal competition just to make the team on each event.

Last year, the Devils retained the National Team Title in the collegiate (Club) division of the USAG Collegiate National Championships held at the Air Force Academy.

Leading the charge this year will be team veterans: All Americans Charles Baysinger-(4-AA-USAG) and Josh Bradley-(2-V-USAG), Alex Gaudaur and All Around National Champion Riley Barclay (hopefully) will bring the experience needed to anchor the team with so many new freshman vying for a spot in the line-up.

Also bringing experience and leadership will be Co-captain Cody Payne-(5-SR-SAG) and Stewart MacDonald-(2-AA-USAG), who will be leaned on quite heavily to round out the top 4 scores on each event.

Making up the strongest incoming freshman class to date are gymnasts from around the country.
Losses include: Dylan Saunders (6-HB-USAG).
Freshmen: Justin Azevedo (CA), Bryton Boucher (AZ), Jared Chin (OR), Stephen Gragg (CO), Alex Harrison (CO), Gary Lang (NV), Kyle Nakashima (CA), Zachary Ouchida (OR).

CLUB REPORTS:
ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY:
In yet another coaching change Assistant Coach Dan Hayden has left the ASU team to rejoin his brother at their club in Georgia.
Update: Riley Barclay, who suffered a broken neck at a summer camp, appears to be in no danger although he has suffered some numbness in limited areas. He has opted not to have surgery, and is progressing very well, but may miss this season.

Garrick Hojan-Clark-6-PH-ECAC.
Freshmen: None listed on their current roster.

Summary: With 7 sophomores the future is looking brighter for Army.

NISSEN-EMERY AWARD
This fearless forecaster will go to the extent of suggesting that the 2011 Nissen-Emery winner will be between Chris Cameron of Michigan, Steven Legendre of Oklahoma and Paul Ruggeri of Illinois, with a slight edge going to Legendre. This should prove to be the closest voting maybe ever, with over a half-dozen very worthy candidates.

Potential Nissen-Emery Candidates:
Chris Cameron-Michigan
Thomas Kelley-Michigan
Tim Gentry-Stanford
Alex Buscaglia-Stanford
Paul Ruggeri-Illinois
Dan Ribeiro-Illinois
Steven Legendre-Oklahoma
Kyle Bunthuuong-California
Bandon Wynn-Ohio State
Mike Jiang-Iowa
Anthony Ingrelli-Nebraska
Patrick McLaughlin-Temple
Nash Mills-Air Force
Dylan Parrott-Navy
Andrew Faulk-Navy
Neal Thompson, UIC

Results of my predictions for 2010:
Picked Michigan to win and they won.
Picked Stanford for 2nd and they were 2nd
Picked Illinois for 3rd and they were 4th.
Picked California for 4th and they were 5th.
Picked Oklahoma for 5th and they were 3rd.
Picked Minnesota for 6th and they were 7th.
Picked Penn State for 7th and they were 8th.
Picked Ohio State for 8th and they were 6th.
Picked Iowa for 9th and they were 10th.
Picked Nebraska for 10th and they were 9th.
Picked UIC for 11th and they were 11th.
Picked Navy for 12th and they were 16th.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON:
According to Coach Russo, “We should be better than last year as we have depth to get 4 scores on all 6 events. Kyle Farmer is from Black Hills Gymnastics and could be standout on our team.”

Losses: None
Freshmen: Peter Moser (WA) Layton Oka (ID), Greg Steward (WA), Kyle Farmer (WA).

Leading returnees: Sam Softich-5th AA-USAG and Jeramie Hardi-6th-AA-USAG.

BROCKPORT:
A.J. Banker writes: “I wanted to let everyone know that I have moved to Cincinnati, OH and am no longer the head coach of the Brockport club team. I have taken a full time job working for Mary Lee Tracy at Cincinnati Gymnastics Academy.

With that said I will still be very involved with the Brockport team, I will be running the team as the general manager. Shaun Johnson my former captain will be acting as the teams interim head coach this season.

For those that have already know about my leaving had expressed concerns over the future of the Brockport program, I assure you that my teams future is still very bright. The team has a $12,000 budget going into this year prior to our annual fundraising. I hope that after our fundraising efforts that the team will have close to $20,000 to use in our efforts to build a competitive program.

Within the next few weeks the Brockport Men's Gymnastics Foundation will also be formally created giving the program another strong support system, ensuring that the future of the program is secure. The end goal for our program is still to get varsity status.”
